

Per-Erik Persson

Main topics: Coaching, Business development

Experience:

Over the last 5 years Per-Erik has worked as a consultant and has performed several assignments with content such as leadership, co-worker collaboration, coaching, facilitation and communication in both public and private sector. He has trained doctors and supervisors in leadership development.

Background:

Per-Erik has experience as an organisation developer. He shares his expertise in how to conduct meetings and processes in such a way that captures the interest of the attendants and creates a feeling of participation. Per-Erik has formerly worked with individual and group development, as a publisher and staff representative in the board of directors of a bank. Per-Erik's strong social commitment runs as a theme throughout his life; whether in facilitation assignments, trainings or societal issues he is motivated by promoting the perspectives and voices of those who are not often heard.
